Pres. Dan Detrick

I want to start by saying thank you to all of our Spring Concert committee members, the volunteers, the VIPs, the attendees, and our title sponsor, Josh Dorsey, the managing partner and founder of The Dorsey Law Firm. The weather was perfect. The fish tacos, hamburgers, and french fries were delicious. The wife and I enjoyed dancing, eating, and drinking. I hope you did, too. I also want to thank the young adults from our Interact club for volunteering.

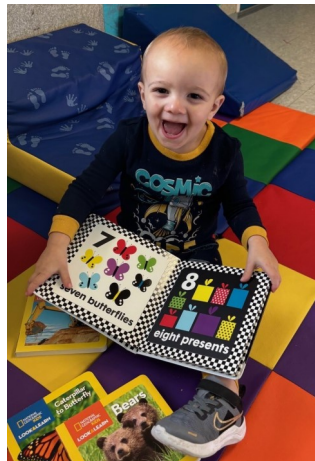

I want to thank Manuela Martinez and Emery Lowden, who spoke to our club about F.I.S.H of SanCap and what they are doing for their local community. These young professionals graduated from The Florida State University making me a proud alumni.

Our President-Elect, Steve Belcher, attended PETS (President-Elect Training) this weekend in Orlando. I hope he learned a lot and is ready to start his tenure in July and use his new-found knowledge to steer the biggest and best Rotary Club in SWFL into the future.

See You Tuesday!

A child's reading skills are essential to success in school, work, and life. It is critical to help ensure the child's success by reading to them from a very early age. Reading to children has many benefits, including supporting cognitive development, improved language skills, preparation for academic success, developing a special bond with your child, increased concentration and discipline, improved imagination and creativity, and cultivating a lifelong love of reading. This project was a partnership with five other Rotary clubs, providing over 190 books to 6 different childcare centers. The books have been carefully selected to provide an educational base in many areas for the children in the childcare facilities. The childcare givers at each facility read to the children as early as six months old. As the children become toddlers and preschoolers, they are provided books to share and learn how to read. All the facilities need new books; this grant is to help them by giving books to six facilities.
