

Angel Carlton Anderson

Angel Carlton Anderson, a seasoned author and speaker, is on a mission to help people evolve through our rapidly changing world so that they can become a greater version of themselves.

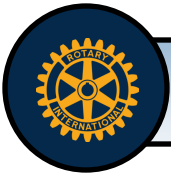

She shares her transformative insights through her books, "Dedicated to Destiny" and "Staying Afloat During Tides of Change," and imparts profound wisdom, urging readers to embrace change as a catalyst for growth.

As a leadership development facilitator for companies like AT&T and a former radio show host in Dallas/Fort Worth, Angel extends her impact into communities, delivering mental health, emotional wellness, and personal development messages.

Angel is the co-creator of transformative programs and guidebooks. She also exercises her passion for our youth as a co-author of "The Golden Rule is Cool" children's book series, instilling essential values in young minds.

Fun fact: Angel is a former professional cheerleader for the Chicago Bulls during the Michael Jordan era. Today, Angel proudly cheers humanity to be resilient and win the game of life.

Pres. Dan Detrick

Welcome back, everyone. We canceled last week's meeting because the Riverside Community Center is used as a Lee County voting center. I hope everyone got a chance to get out and vote. Easter Sunday is coming, and I hope you enjoy this holiday with your family and friends.

Our speaker at our last meeting was Dylan Gerarci, who spoke about Rotary's 'Josh the Otter' program. His video was compelling and elicited emotions and actions from our membership. Leena Plavumkal shared a personal story with me, which moved her to donate significant money for her three daughters. Mark Stitcher, an incoming board member, and a longtime club member, volunteered to help our club with the 'Josh the Otter' program. If you can, please volunteer.

This week's program promises to be great. We have Angel Anderson, a motivational speaker on transformational learning. Transformational learning, or transformative learning, is a theory about how people make sense of their life experiences. It's an extension of constructivism, a framework that states every learner constructs meaning based on the interaction of new knowledge with previous knowledge.

In case you missed the email, I invite our Club to attend Judge Kimberly Bocelli's Investiture on Friday, April 5, 2024, promptly at 3:00 p.m., with a reception to follow immediately after that.

I hope to see you on Tuesday.
